How to install Terra-dv

Installation

Installation of Terra-DV is a simple and straight forward process, from the website select and download either the Terra-DV Windows Installer package OR the Terra-DV MacOS installer package. Running the installer will set up all components needed for the application to run on your PC or laptop.

Starting Terra-DV

To start Terra-DV, follow the process you would use for running any other application on your PC/laptop, use the start menu for Windows or the applications folder for MacOS.

For help on the Terra-DV application, press the Help button at the bottom of the main screen, where you will find links to the user and technical manuals.

Demo Version

By default, the Terra-DV application is in free demo mode. This prevents any exports and limits interactive use until a subscription is activated.

Once registered and subscribed, you'll just be asked to validate your licence and once done you will immediately be up and running.

Problems

Please refer to our FAQ page which provides answers to many common questions. If you cannot find what you are looking for then please contact us using the contact form on our website.